NICOLA GETS OUT OF BOX

If ever a man received a rousing reception it was Nicola, when, last night, he emerged from the packing case in which he was nailed up by employees of the Clarion. The entire audience, one of the largest ever seen at the Hawaiian Opera House, rose to their feet and cheered and applauded the daring young magician. After the young men had carried their box upon the stage, the audience was invited to step upon the stage and assist in nailing Nicola in the box. About a dozen husky men responded. Nicola was placed in the box and the cover nailed down with extra heavy spikes, (then the whole box was gone over and carefully repailed. Heavy hoop-iron was nailed around the box, after which about 200 feet of rope were tied around and around the box. Every precaution was taken to make the box secure, the positions of the ropes were marked, and when Nicola rolled the box out upon the stage, in exactly the same condition as the committee had left it, the box was intact—not a nail or rope had been moved. How he escaped will long remain a mystery. On Monday night he will attempt the most dangerous feat ever attempted, that of being placed in a large milk can filled with water, the top locked and sealed. Nicola's head being under water all the time, he will have to make his escape under breath.

KATE BENDER IS DEAD AGAIN

Rio Vista, Cal., identifies her as Mrs. Peters.

RIO VISTA, Cal., May 10.—That a woman who lived here for nearly 30 years under the name of Mrs. Gavin and subsequently that of Mrs. Peters, and who died recently, was really Kate Bender, of the notorious family of Kansas murderers, is a statement made by Jack Collins, a resident of this place. The woman was found dead in her home near here last Monday evening, having died a week or ten days ago from natural causes.

According to Collins, a close friend of the woman, Mrs. Peters admitted her identity to him a number of years ago while critically ill, believing that she was at the point of death. But she recovered, and, fearing that Collins, he says, would make her confession known, she offered another man $50 if he would set fire to a houseboat in which Collins lay a victim of a paralytic stroke.

Collins declares the woman revealed to him a detailed account of many murders which she said her brothers committed in the Bender home at Cherryvale, Kan., in the '70s. Her role, according to Collins, was to make love to the unfortunate wayfarers who sought shelter at the Bender house and lure them to a corner of the room, where her brothers, concealed behind a curtain, would crush their skulls with heavy clubs. Robbery was the motive of the crimes.

During the investigation of the murders by detectives, the woman escaped to Chicago, afterward going to New York, and sailing from there around Cape Horn to San Francisco. There she became a trained nurse and married John Gavin, a whaler. Ten or 15 years later they were divorced and the woman then began an evil life.

The dead woman was 76 years old. A reward of $5000 was at one time offered for the capture of Kate Bender.

IMPROVEMENT IN MAIL SERVICE

Much satisfaction is expressed over the contemplated improvements in the Honolulu-Hilo mail service scheduled to go into effect with the beginning of July.

The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company is now preparing a new sailing schedule and there will a slight change made in the time of arrival as well as departure at various ports of call between Honolulu and Hilo.

The Mauna Kea will sail at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning instead of the noon hour as formerly. This will permit of the popular liner arriving at destination early on Wednesday morning. The early train on the Hilo railway will be held awaiting the arrival of the Mauna Kea and by this means the Kona and Kau districts of Hawaii will become available for a quicker mail service.

Hilo wins out in a manner which will be much appreciated in the change of the Claudine's schedule. The Claudine will leave there at her usual time, 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, but will not make the long delays which now take place, and will reach Honolulu on Wednesday morning, instead of Thursday morning, as is now the case.

Postal Inspector Carr states that he hopes that arrangements can be made before long so that the Claudine will leave Hilo later in the afternoon than she does now which will give a still better service to Honolulu.

CRICKET MATCH AT MAKIKI GROUND

This afternoon at the Makiki cricket field the season will open with a match between the H. C. C. and the Bishop & Co. eleven. A big turn out is expected and all the cricketers of the city will be on hand to watch the play.

The Bishop team is considered to be a strong one, but the H. C. C. numbers some well known players in its ranks, and the match should be a close one. The eleven will be as follows: H. C. C.—R. Anderson, C. F. Maxwell, J. R. M. Maclean, J. H. Fiddes, H. B. Bailey, C. P. Morse, N. Deerr, Winkley, R. A. Jordan, F. Withington and Wicketts. Bishop & Co.—J. L. Cockburn, W. Simpson, F. Jamieson, J. M. Maconell, T. P. Gray, A. Baird, G. S. Waterhouse, C. Louis, A. Kau, En Yak and Ching Yet.

Play will start as soon after two o'clock as possible, and one inning each will probably be played. All those interested in the English national game are invited to attend at the Makiki grounds.

WATERFRONT NOTES

TEN O'CLOCK on Monday morning should see the arrival of the big Japanese liner Tenyo Maru from San Francisco. A wireless received at the agency of H. Hackfeld this morning gives her approximate arrival at the port. It is possible that the steamer may be held over until Tuesday morning before sailing for Japan ports and Hongkong.

THE KAUAI, an inter-island steamer which for the past six months has been engaged in the coasting trade on Hawaii, has arrived here for a regular overhauling. The vessel has gone on to the marine railway for a cleaning and repainting.

A WIRELESS received last evening from the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Tenyo Maru enroute from San Francisco to Honolulu reports that vessel as 893 miles off the port and due to arrive here about ten o'clock on Monday morning.

HAWAII PRODUCTS including corn, chickens, cord wood, saw, ohia lumber and sheep arrived in goodly quantities by the inter-island steamer Mauna Kea. Fine weather characterized the trip.
